Dr. Nand Lal Tiwari was born in January 1940 at Nimari in Nagaur district. He is an ayurveda doctor who has made his reputation as a cancer specialist. During his service in the tea gardens in Assam he made an extensive study of various herbs, flora and fauna for curative purposes. After 20 years of research he has developed an ayurvedic formula of herbs which has successfully cured large numbers of patients suffering from the advanced stages of cancer.

Dr. Tiwari's reputation as a man of integrity has been recognized by several international hospitals and institutions, including the TATA Memorial Cancer Hospital in Mumbai. Allopathic doctors now often refer patients to Dr. Tiwari when conventional treatment has failed to arrest the cancer.
